General information

Who is MB Financial Bank?

MB Financial Bank is locally operated and has served Chicago-area residents and businesses for almost 100 years. MB Financial Bank now has over 80 locations throughout Chicagoland, some near the communities served by Corus Bank. It is part of MB Financial, Inc., which has more than $10 billion in assets

What happened to Corus Bank?

Corus Bank and its branches were closed Friday, September 11, 2009 by the Office of the Comptroller of Currency (OCC). The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) was named Receiver. MB Financial Bank has agreed to acquire the deposits and the bank's local consumer and currency exchange business loans. MB Financial Bank did not acquire Corus' commercial real estate loans or the loans and other real estate owned related to their construction lending business. The FDIC has retained these for future disposition. According to regulatory policy, no advance notice is given to the public when a bank is closed.

How does this closing affect me?

The effect on most Corus Bank depositors will be minimal. If you had a deposit account at Corus Bank, you will now have a deposit account at MB Financial Bank. The branches of Corus Bank have now re-opened as branches of MB Financial Bank, and we welcome you to the MB Financial Bank family.

Will I be able to access the funds in my account?

Yes, but for the time being please continue to use the former Corus Bank branches as usual. You will not be able to transact business at any MB Financial Bank branch until the computer systems have been merged.

Can I now do my banking at MB Financial Bank branches?

Until the MB Financial Bank and Corus Bank computer systems are merged, please continue to do business at your usual Corus Bank branches. After the systems merger, you will have access to MB's entire branch network of 80+ locations. We will be sure to communicate a timetable for the computer systems merger as soon as we know it.

By September 18, 2009, you may use any MB Financial Bank ATM with no service charge.

Protect your account information!

MB Financial Bank employees may call you from time to time, but please remember we will never ask for your ### personal information over the phone or by email.

We will never call or email you and request your account identification, PIN or any other confidential account information. Please be vigilant about your personal account information and do not fall victim to fraud or scam artists.

FDIC Insurance coverage

Are my accounts still insured by the FDIC?

Yes. MB Financial Bank has a healthy balance sheet and a strong capital and liquidity position. We are FDIC-insured and your accounts will continue to be insured by the FDIC, just as they are now.

I also have accounts at MB Financial Bank. Will my Corus Bank accounts still be FDIC-insured, too?

Yes. Your Corus Bank accounts will be separately insured for at least six months after the merger to give you time to review and change your accounts, if necessary. If you have Certificates of Deposit with Corus Bank, you may qualify for an even longer period of separate FDIC insurance, up to the first maturity date of your CD after the six month period.

How do I verify my FDIC coverage?

The FDIC has useful tools online to help you determine your FDIC insurance coverage. Visit <http://www.fdic.gov/index.html> for more information. The FDIC standard maximum coverage per depositor per financial institution has been increased to $250,000 through Dec. 31, 2013. MB Financial Bank is also participating in the FDIC's expanded insurance program for non-interest bearing checking accounts. Please see our newsletter, MB News, for complete details or visit our website at www.mbfinc.com

Checking account information

Can I continue to use my Corus Bank checks, deposit slips and ATM/debit card?

Yes. You can continue to use your current checks, deposit slips and ATM/debit card until further notice. In the future, after the computer systems are merged, you will be issued a new MB Financial Bank ATM Card or MB Debit MasterCard®.

Will my outstanding checks be cleared?

Checks drawn on Corus Bank that did not clear before the bank closed will be honored up to your available balance.

Will I still get my bank statements on my Corus Bank accounts?

Yes, however, the name on your statements will change to MB Financial Bank.

Will my account numbers change?

Possibly. When we get closer to the computer systems merger date we will have a better idea if some Corus Bank account numbers will need to be changed. But we will work with you and let you know in advance if your account number will change.

Do I need to change my direct deposit or automatic transfers?

No. At this time you do not need to make any changes to your direct deposit instructions, pre-approved transfers or debits to or from your account. If you have your Social Security check or payroll check direct deposited, your deposits will continue to be credited to your account without interruption. You will be notified in the event that changes need to be made.

Will I still be able to use Internet Banking and Bill Pay?

Yes. You will still be able to use your current Internet Banking and Bill Pay systems until we merge computer systems. After the computer systems conversion, you will have access to MB's Internet Banking and Bill Pay products, called ibankmb.com. Both of these services are free.

Will I still be able to bank by telephone through Teller Phone?

At this time, you can continue to call 800.555.5697. After the systems merger you will be able to do your telephone banking with MB Financial Bank using our 24-hour Phone Access Line (PAL). Also, MB's Telephone Banking Center is open seven days a week for your convenience.

Business Account information

Will there be any changes to my business accounts?

There will be no change to your current accounts. In the future, after the computer systems have been merged you will have access to many additional types of business banking services. We look forward to working with you to determine which products will best suit your business needs.

Certificates of Deposit information

Will I be charged an early withdrawal penalty if I close my Corus Bank Certificate of Deposit (CD) before maturity?

No. You may withdraw funds from any transferred account without an early withdrawal penalty.

Will my CD continue to earn the same interest rate?

We are reviewing bank products and interest plans, and we will let you know if anything will change on any deposit account you had with Corus Bank.

What happens to my IRA accounts?

MB Financial Bank is reviewing the IRA accounts. We will be in contact with you if you need to sign a new agreement. Please keep in mind that your IRA account will continue to be FDIC insured separately from your other types of accounts, up to $250,000.

Safe Deposit Box information

Is my safe deposit box affected by this change? Can I still access the contents of my box?

You may still access your safe deposit box during regular banking hours. Your safe deposit box agreement may change when your contract is up for renewal, but for now this service will continue without interruption.

Loan information

Do I need to change my loan payments? Where do I send my loan payments?

The terms and conditions of any loan you had with Corus Bank remain the same. Please continue to make your loan payments as usual, and at the same locations. We will notify you by mail if anything changes.
