MB Financial Bank completes systems conversion of former New Century Bank

Just two weeks after converting former Broadway Bank

(Chicago – August 2, 2010) – A little more than 90 days after assuming its deposits and loans in an FDIC-assisted transaction that included the former Broadway Bank, Chicago-based MB Financial Bank completed the transition of the former New Century Bank computer operating systems to those of MB. The former Broadway Bank systems conversion was completed just two weeks ago.

“All signs indicate that the conversion went smoothly with minimal disruption to customers and operations,” says Mitchell Feiger, president and CEO of MB Financial, Inc. (NASDAQ: MBFI), parent of MB Financial Bank, N.A. “The end result is that all former New Century Bank customers now have access to a more robust offering of products and services in addition to the convenience of banking at any of MB’s 90-plus locations throughout Chicagoland.”

With six conversions completed in the last 18 months, MB has a well-seasoned staff in place with the ability to manage integrations while maintaining a focus on everyday efforts, according to Feiger.

MB Financial Bank is a locally-operated financial institution that has been delivering competitive personalized service for 100 years to businesses and individuals who live and work in the Chicago metropolitan area. MB Financial Bank has more than $10 billion in assets and over 90 locations. Information about MB Financial can be found at www.mbfinancial.com. MB Financial Bank is the Illinois local operating unit of MB Financial, Inc., a financial services holding company which is traded on the NASDAQ as "MBFI."
